Funding External Contract Research and Conferences

REFERENCE:

Letter, D/INR to DDCI, 12 February 1988

1. The list of unfunded projects noted in referenced letter includes a number of low cost studies that are policy-relevant and could usefully contribute to broader Community interests. At the same time, the list also includes a number of relatively costly projects that do not appear to merit special emphasis. Several studies appear to be of marginal value, while other topics are well covered in academic writings.

2. Given the need to make judicious choices during a period of budget constraints, and to assist in providing an appropriate response, we have highlighted those proposed projects that do not appear to warrant Community funding. The eight projects recommended for elimination at Tab A would pare [] from the State/INR request and enhance the possibility of funding some of the more useful studies.
